District Shows Gains Despite Huge Expenses

Big Disbursements As Water System Gets New Equipment

The Truckee Public Utility District enjoyed a healthy development during 1948, despite the fact that the net earnings from all operations showed a decrease of $488.60, as compared to the previous year's business.

These facts were revealed in a report recently compiled by Harry M. Straine, public accountant, who completed the annual audit of the district's accounts.

Net earnings for the year was $361.29, compared to $849.89 for 1947, the report indicated. This decrease was due in part to an increased depreciation charge to the amount expended on capital additions.

The total gross for the year from both the electric and water departments was shown by the report as $57,723.62. Of this total, $47,956.61 was from the electric department and $9,767.01 from the water department.

Heavy Disbursements

Considerable expenditure was made on the water department, the report shows. Among the disbursements were $4,773.55 for mains, with services, pumping plants, springs, and reservoirs bringing the total expenditures up to $12,626.72. Cash on hand at the start of the year was $3,253.22 and plus the gross income of $9,767.01, the total of cash available for the water department was $13,020.23.

Electric Department

In the electric department, according to the report, the heaviest expenditure was for electric energy which last year totalled $20,984.78. Repairs and replacements added an expense of $5,276.30, while salaries were $5,815. Other disbursements such as insurance, small tools, advertising, community donations and a total of $3,798.96 advanced to the water department, brought the total to $49,898.16 for the year and left a cash balance at the end of 1948 of $3,649.12.

The report praised the directors and management for efficient handling of accounts and records.

FIRE DISTRICT TO HOLD VOTE ON TUESDAY, MAY 3

F. W. Gaiennie, secretary of the Truckee Fire District commission, announces that the election for commissioners this year will be consolidated with the Truckee Public Utility District election on Tuesday, May 3.

"These district elections make it mandatory that several businesses in Truckee close during the voting hours. We felt it would minimize the loss of trade to these establishments if we consolidated these elections and at the same time effect a saving to the taxpayers," Gaiennie said.

The terms of Gaiennie and B. J. Riordan expire this year and it is believed they will both be candidates for re-election to the commission.

Polls will be set up in the utility district office from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Officers to conduct the voting are Lucile Bick, Dorothy Leamon, Ileen Risden, Elizabeth McKay and Agnes Mahne.

Charles Heller is unopposed as a candidate for director of the utility district. C. E. Smith, retiring director, declined to file for retention, rounding out 22 years on the board.

School Board To Name Super At Meet Tomorrow

Successful School Head Should Be Partial To Region

W. A. Loynd, president of the Tahoe Truckee Unified School District, announces that a definite decision will be made on the appointment of a superintendent for the district at a meeting of the board of trustees tomorrow night.

The board met Monday to interview four applicants, John W. Austin of Manhattan Beach, associated with the state department of education; Gordon M. Arlett of Placer Junior College at Auburn; Charles W. Shepherd, Pittsburg educator, and Ivan E. Larsen, Middletown school executive.

William Rutherford, member of the local board from Soda Springs, in outlining items of study for the governing board of the district, said:

"The Tahoe Truckee area has one of the greatest opportunities in the field of education to stand as a leader and not just another school system if it wisely and carefully builds its educational system around the needs of the community to meet those physical, mental, emotional and social needs recognized by the community leaders as important.

"For its building program leadership should be sought by the board from one who has had experience in that particular field. For around the building program the whole key to the future community life will be welded, thus creating a better place in which to live and work.

"For building the curriculum in the school to the level to meet all requirements, any person holding the regular credentials in school administration, supervision and instruction should be able to qualify.

"The other qualities of leadership to guide the board should be the ability of whoever is chosen to meet, know, love and live the Tahoe Truckee area and at all times to give one hundred per cent of his time to the end that the position is one requiring year 'round work and service to the youth of the district."

Squaw Valley Project Is Described to Lions

Wayne Poulson, one of the principals in the development of Squaw Valley as one of the outstanding winter sports developments in the world, spoke on the project at the meeting of the Lions Club at Sarge's last night. Poulson reported that plans had already been completed for the gigantic project and work would start on installations as soon as the snow permits. He went into some detail on the extensive plans which will involve a huge sum of money already pledged.

Polson was the guest of Frank Titus. Other guests were Kieth McDonald of Nevada City and Dr. L. D. Nelson of Truckee. The next meeting will be held jointly with the 20-30 Club at Cozzi's Wednesday.

Sun Beams

by Walter M. Barrett

National Forest areas are concerned over a report from Washington that a sharp cut in appropriations for operating the forest service is in prospect. A point brought out in opposition to the cut by those familiar with the work of the service is that entire watersheds are endangered as well as lives and property of whole communities. Private citizens and crews from industries would be called upon repeatedly to fight fires due to insufficient suppression crews. Twenty-five fires were suppressed on the Truckee district during 1948 and with reduced crews any one ot these might easily have reached major proportions and caused untold damage, but with the normal crews, the loss from these 25 fires was held to 30 acres. Residents of forest areas as well as those who depend upon the water sheds and natural resources will do well to oppose the cuts proposed. Additional slashes at this time are, we believe, unwarranted and unwise. Too little attention is now being given the few remaining wooded areas embraced by national forest boundaries and unless more attention is given, it may only a matter of time until our forests and the natural resources they embody will become extinct.

Sunday your Truckee baseball club goes into action in its first Placer-Nevada League game. The league is a little tougher than the boys have been used to in the past but with your support and encouragement they will do a nice job. Baseball is a splendid form of community advertising and reflects the attitude of the region. Whether we win, lose or draw, get behind your team and give them your support. We can show the league area that Truckee is behind its team. Go to the games and boost whenever the opportunity presents and above all don't knock.

FAIR PROSPECTS ARE SEEN FOR LAKES' OPENING

A familiar sound in Truckee these days is the hum of outboard motors being tuned up for the opening of lake trout fishing on May 1. While none of the streams in this district will be opened until May 30, Donner Lake, Lake Tahoe and Boca Reservoir will be eligible for fishermen a week from Sunday.

Donner Lake, which has been frozen over all winter, is thawing and should be free of most of the ice by opening day and with the fish therein hungry after a winter of enforced hibernation, trolling should be better than fair. Tahoe is expected to yield its usual limits while Boca is an unknown quantity and will probably not attract much attention.

On the eve of the 1949 season openings, the division of fish and game announced the planting of 16,600,000 fish in streams and lakes of the state during 1948. Catchable size fish totalled 82 per cent of the 1948 plant by weight.

Sportsmen Will Decide Issue At Annual Meeting

Fly Casting Question To Be Presented On April 29

Local sportsmen who favor or oppose a plan to set aside a portion of the Truckee River to fly casting exclusively are invited to attend the annual meeting of the Truckee Outdoor Sportsmen on Friday, April 29 at Capitol Hall when the matter will be reopened for general discussion and possibly a compromise. At the same time, officers will be elected for the coming year.

H. H. Hodson, acting president of the local club, called the meeting following a luncheon here Tuesday attended by four members of the San Francisco Fly Casting Club and a delegation of local businessmen. Although they had nothing to do with the introduction of a recent bill in the state assembly to close a portion of the river to bait fishermen, the club members expressed themselves as being in favor of such a plan, even though on a greatly modified scale and for a test period.

Many local sportsmen also apparently favor such a plan and have implied a willingness to compromise the situation. Others are equally opposed to the plan and it is for this reason that the meeting on April 29 will be devoted principally to arguments pro and con.

Members of the flycasters' club at the luncheon included L. B. Young, newly elected president; D. E. Kessler, past president; J. Ritter and Clifton Kroll.

The meeting was devoted to ways and means of improving fishing in the Truckee River but no definite action was taken and no commitments made, it being the concensus of opinion that the sportsmen as a whole should be invited to determine the issues under discussion.

Several areas were mentioned as testing grounds for the fly casting idea, none of them including that portion of the river near Truckee and all including the area now bordered by the lands of the Fly Casting Club.

Traffic Increase In March Noted In State Report

Passenger Figures Rise Over 50 Per Cent In Month

No slackening in traffic into California during March was noted by border plant quarantine station operated by the state department of agriculture, which reported 224,468 motor vehicles and 331,440 passengers were checked during the month, according to word from Western News Service at Sacramento.

The Truckee station counted 11,436 automobiles, 1788 commercial trucks, 491 stages and a passenger total of 38,577. This represents a passenger gain of 12,629 or over 50 per cent in relation to February traffic.

The Stateline station on Highway 50 at Lake Tahoe tallied 1585 autos, 86 trucks, 31 stages and 4110 passengers for March while the Peavine station on Highway 395 north of here chalked up 7403 cars, 388 trucks, 143 stages and 20,210 passengers.

Most of the passengers entered through stations at Blythe and Yermo, the southern routes being favored over the more wintry northern passes.

Gradual increases this month, with the peak travel coming in May, June, July and August are forecast by the bureau.

The fight by the department to keep pests dangerous to California crops paid dividends last month when 1283 lots of insects were intercepted at border stations.

In a report to the department, A. P. Messenger, chief of the bureau of plant quarantine, said that among insects intercepted were the vetch weevil, citrus whitefly, armored scale, fiorinia scale and European cornborer.

Truckee reported interception of 146 plant pests during March.

He is survived by his wife, Jessie, two daughters, Mrs. Bernita Wilson of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Frances Stansbury of Richmond, and a nephew, Edward Hale of Napa, who has also been a visitor here for the past few weeks.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday afternoon in the Chapel of the Chimes located on Piedmont Avenue in Oakland.

Local Lodges Give to Vets' Hospital Fund

Members of Rebekah Lodge 2 and Donner Lodge 162, IOOF, have contributed with other IOOF and Rebekah lodges throughout the state to a $250,000 fund toward the construction of an occupational therapy building at the Yountville Veterans Hospital. A check for the full amount was given to Governor Warren at a brief ceremony at his office yesterday.

W. J. Dowick, district deputy grand patriarch of the order, said the gift will go for a building to be used exclusively for occupational rehabilitation of veterans in the hospital.

Kings Beacher Wins Suit Over Property

AUBURN— Bonnie B. Barnett of Kings Beach was granted $1000 compensatory damages in addition to a decree quieting title to property in a judgment handed down by Judge Lowell Sparks.

In a suit filed against W. R. Hyde last October the plaintiff charged she had negotiated with the defendant for the purchase of a piece property, owned by his parents.

She claimed Hyde later recorded a deed to the property in his own name. She asked title to the property and damages.

Moisture Survey Reveals Water Is Below Normal

Tahoe's Peak Elevation Is Predicted For July 5

In accordance with terms of the Truckee River Agreement, the April 1 snow surveys were made in the Lake Tahoe and Truckee River watershed areas by the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District, the Washoe County Water Conservation District and the Sierra Pacific Power Company.

In general, it was found that the water content in the low levels is somewhat above normal but that in the high levels it is below normal. The reason for such high water content in the low levels with a general 85 per cent year is that practically all precipitation was in the form of snow instead of being partially in the form of rain as is usually the case. It is also due to the very cold weather as there was no low level melt during the winter. Normally during the period from December 1 to April 1, Lake Tahoe will rise about 0.65 of a foot but this winter it fell 0.09 of a foot during this period.

Donner Lake is now practically empty with a very small outflow but there is ample water content in the snow in this basin to fill it to capacity.

Independence Lake had some carry-over and will fill to capacity.

Boca Reservoir was completely emptied this year but there is ample water content in the snow in the Little Truckee watershed to fill this reservoir to capacity.

On April 1 Lake Tahoe stood at elevation 6224.48. Based on the results of the snow surveys and assuming normal precipitation and temperatures for the balance of the season, it is estimated that the lake will rise 1.42 feet which is 91.6 per cent of the normal rise of 1.55 feet. On this basis the maximum lake elevation will be 6225.9 which should be reached about July 5.

It is believed the April-July runoff in the Truckee River at Farad gage, exclusive of Tahoe drafts and corrected for other reservoir storge, will amount to about 250,000 acre feet which is 86.2 per cent of normal.

If the anticipated Lake Tahoe elevation is reached there will be sufficient water for irrigation this summer but the lake elevation will drop to about 6224.8 by mid-September. Below this elevation sufficient drafts cannot be made to maintain the required rates of flow and there will be some shortage thereafter.

Baseball Team Goes To Folsom For Game Sun.

Nevada City Wins Over Locals in Practice Last Sunday

Manager Mike Korich of the Truckee Baseball team this week announced the tentative lineup which will go against the Folsom team of the Placer-Nevada League Sunday at 2:30 at the Folsom Park.

In a practice game Sunday at Nevada City, the locals lost 14 to 6 against the Anchos, Manager Korich taking advantage of the opportunity to switch his lineup and look over his prospective players. Jimmy Stevens pitched the last seven and a half innings after Johnny Rau had an unsuccessful start.

In next Sunday's league opener, Korich will start George "Cowboy" Allison on the mound with Karl Kielhofer in reserve. Allison, a Sacramento boy and one of Truckee's outside players, had a successful year with the league-winning Placerville team last season.

Korich will occupy the other end of the battery back of the plate and Jerry Burelle, an outstanding player from Hobart Mills, will be on first. Burelle played with Graeagle and made a good showing Sunday at Nevada City. Jim Metcalf will be on second and Gibby Williams will be at short. Either Joe Bernard or Bill Connor will hold down third and in the outfield Korich will start Larry Baxter, Willie Curran and Harvey Martin, the latter from Kings Beach and said to be a good addition to this year's lineup.

Practicing Here

The team is now practicing on the local diamond, the snow having melted to leave the repaired field in excellent condition.

In other games Sunday Colfax will play at Lincoln; Grass Valley at Auburn, Nevada City in Placerville and the Roseville AC against the Roseville W&R.

Truckee will play two more out of town games, both in Roseville, before the first home game here with Placerville May 15.

A representative following of local fans is expected to travel to Folsom Sunday to see the Truckee team in action. This will mark the locals first appearance against teams of the Placer-Nevada league and tougher competition is expected than has been encountered during the past two seasons when Truckee played in the Sagebrush league and last year in the Feather River set.

Korich is hopeful for a successful season and will make every effort to take the pennant.

20-30 Will Be Host To Lions Next Meeting

Truckee 20-30 Club met at Cozzi's on Wednesday evening. Guests were John Rablin, Bill Knox and Duke Mathes. Next week's meeting will be a joint session with the Truckee Lions Club to be held at Cozzi's with the 20-30 Club providing the program.

Tahoe Letter

FROM SWANEE

Tahoe, April 18

Dear Tahoeites:

Easter Sunday has come and gone and a more beautiful day could not have been desired. Once again sunrise services were held on the lakeshore of the Tahoe Commons where a crowd gathered to witness the rites. Half an hour before the services the sky above the Nevada mountains glowed with a deep pink which merged into the soft blue of early morning, the silent waters of the lake reflecting the inspiring beauty. Shortly after the sun rose the devotions began at 5:45. After reveille had sounded from the hillside, the Hallelujah Chorus was broadcast over the loudspeaker and the rites were conducted by Bishop Noel Porter of the Sacramento Episcopal diocese and his son-in-law, Herman Rauh of the Tahoe Episcopal Chapel of St. Nicholas. Not a ripple moved on the lake's service as all eyes were drawn to the altar of snow adorned with a single vase of daffodils and the rugged cross behind it as Bishop Porter's words rang clear and strong across the commons. Underfoot, where snow had melted, green grass pushed through and pussy willow adorned the bushes. Ice stood on snow puddles and those who failed to wear galoshes shivered through the brief devotion. Gowned in pale green with white collars, the choir stood a short distance away, their voices blending as the sacred hymns carried through the crisp morning air.

Easter found my neighbor, Mrs. Charles Cross, home again after a three-day trip from Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. At least she discovered the cause of her illness and now must spend the rest of the summer in comparative quiet taking things easy.

The skiing season is just about over but right up to the very last, Tahoe youngsters brought home their share of trophies. Lewis Fellows, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fellows of Carnelian Bay and a member of Lake Tahoe Ski Club, took top honors Saturday at Sugar Bowl for the Hooker Trophy for youngsters up to 16 years of age. On Sunday Lake Tahoe Ski Clubber Rex Donaldson, 8, son of the Wesley Donaldsons of Tahoe Pines, brought back third place in the annual Walt Disney race on Donner Summit. This is Rex's first year of skiing and he made third place in an entry list of 25.

Latest word from Terry Tollefson's bedside at Sun Valley Hospital indicates that he is still a very ill young man with a long road of convalescense but it is new believed his recovery is assured.

The vacationing A. M. Andersons are now reported visiting Red's sister, Mrs. Frank Gunter and family at Missoula, Mont. Their next stop will be at Jackson Hole, Wyo., where daughter Kay has been vacationing with Miss Betty Woolsey for several weeks.

Mrs. Otis Hursey and sons Roger and Robert came over from Fallon to spend Easter week with Mr. Hursey who is caretaker at the Henry Kaiser estate at Tahoe Pines. Mrs. Hursey has been staying with her mother at Fallon since the death of Mrs. Hursey's father.

Wayne Poulsen, president of the Squaw Valley Development Company, and Alec Cushing of New York, one of the principal stockholders, accompanied Emile Allais, via weasel, to Squaw Valley today where they will make a survey of the proposed site for the elaborate ski resort planned there. Allais is head of the Sun Valley Ski School and a renowned skiing stylist, having developed the parallel technique. Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson of New Hampshire, who will be associated with the venture this summer, have taken the Tucker house in the Bittencourt Tract for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Carnell are seeing a lot of the country in a short time. Dick took brother Howard back to the San Diego Marine base, following a furlough at Tahoe, then continued on with Mrs. Carnell's sister, Marcelle, and children to their home in Phoenix, Arizona. The Floyd Carnells are taking care of little John Ecker while his parents are away. They plan to return early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stark of Reno spent Easter week vacation at the Roy Stark home on Dollar Point. Bob is taking special courses at University of Nevada.

An estimated 100 persons attended Mass in the Catholic chapel near Tahoe Tavern on Easter where Father J. Boland of Truckee officiated. Easter music was provided by the newly organized choir led by Mrs. Basil Kehoe Jr., who is the organist. Singers included Mrs. Martha Snyder, Mrs. Mae Kennedy, Mrs. Marie Henry, Mrs. Jewel Bechdolt, Mrs. Bill Connors, Mrs. Justine Pingree, and Mrs. Bernie Bechdolt, all of Tahoe, Mrs. Mary Zunino and Mrs. Elden Tonini, of Truckee who came along with Father Boland to lend their vocal talents. Regular choir practice will soon be announced and any who wish to join will be welcome. Music and singing are planned for every Sunday throughout the summer.

Will ring off for the week and trust Easter was a pleasant time for all our readers. As ever, Swanee.

Spring training teaches a young rookie that it's mighty tough to break into the big leagues. The following story tells of a college boy and his ups and downs with the New York Giants, parent club of the Reno Silver Sox one of the two Nevada entries in the Class C Sunset League.

It's about a quiet, soft-spoken college kid who was bought from Norfolk by the New York Giants back in 1900. He was a pitcher, but, without even giving the boy a try-out, he was shipped back to Norfolk. Then the Cincinnati Reds took up his option and drafted the rookie. But the Reds never used him either. They traded him to the Giants for aging Amos Rusie.

In one season, the youngster had gone from Norfolk to New York, New York to Norfolk, Norfolk to Cincinnati, and Cincinnati to New York again. And the rookie said and did nothing in his own defense as a ballplayer.

He hadn't been long with the New York club when he found out that once again he was on his way out of the big leagues, and was being shipped back to Norfolk. But this time, the quiet young pitcher decided to do something about it. He was going to get off the merry-go-round.

The next day when the Giants came onto the field to practice, out walked the bashful rookie lugging a strange wooden contraption. It was a board with a small hole cut in the center. When the manager of the team saw it, he angrily shouted to the boy:

"Get that hunk of wood off the field and take yourself with it. I don't need any clowns!"

But the rookie refused to budge. Instead, he answered the manager in his politest tones. "I've been waiting for a chance to show you that I can pitch, but you've never given me that chance," he replied. "Now, I'm not going back to Norfolk until you watch what I'm going to do."

The puzzled manager was silent for a moment, surprised at the shy rookie's boldness. Then he spoke. "Go ahead," he said. "Let's see what you can do."

All the other players gathered around on the sidelines to watch the rookie pitcher prove to a skeptical big-league manager that he was a good pitcher. The youngster placed the wooden gadget at home plate.

Then he went out on the mound and began pitching baseballs at it. The manager and players were soon whistling in astonishment. The rookie hurler was tossing balls with unerring accuracy through that small hole in the wooden board propped up sixty feet away.

It was an amazing exhibition of pitching control, and it impressed the manager so much that he decided to keep the rookie pitcher on the squad. It was well that he did.

The unwanted rookie became one of the greatest major league pitchers in the history of the national pastime. The rookie pitcher who never got a chance to prove himself in a game, and who had to resort to throwing balls through a hole in a slab of wood, turned out to be the immortal hurler, Christy Mathewson!

Summit Scene

by FRAN COUILLARD

Jean and Charlie Buttlar's clam bake on April 12 was a huge success. About 50 people attended and as usual, the food was out of this world. And it should have been with Jean home on the range—and a new range at that. This gal can really cook.

We think everyone knows Janie McIntyre (familiarly known as "Banjo Eyes" in this locale) and we think Art Mason who gave her a new name on the 12th is utterly tops. Lots of luck from all of we'uns to you and Art, Janie.

Ken Kolb of the Highway Patrol and formerly one of our favorite occupants of the whitesided cars in this area, dropped into Donner Summit Lodge the other evening after a heck of a good showing in a New Mexico shooting tournament.

Bud Horak, Rolly Galloway and Art Couillard arrived home safely from their air trip to Berkeley together with 53 other Rotarians and stated that it was the best time they had ever had in their existence, which is something as a couple of these boys have been around a bit.

The Soda Springs Ski Corporation announced a snow picnic for last Tuesday evening (the 12th) with ski tows running and the works — hot dogs, coffee and everything served from a pine boughed hole in the snow. They forgot the eclipse of the moon and had to put off the picnic until Wednesday evening but that evening was superb! The snow picnic was a decided success and we look forward to more of them.

Easter Sunday in our area isn't always too packed with guests but we have to stay on the job, customers or no. In order not to feel too badly we all don our Easter hats and even wear 'em on the ski tows. On the Soda Springs Ski Hill Milton Hogle wore a Tyrolean number bedecked in blue bows. Betty Altman shaded her becoming tan with a big straw hat. Darned if we know what kind of chapeau Kay Jansen wore but it reminded us of a cross between a Keystone Cop's kettle type helmet and an Austrian officer's dress parade rig. All kinds of emblems and stuff, even to the gold cord. Barbara Zorich wore that striped creation she bedecked herself with for the recent hat party we reported. Madylon Walton wore a bonnet of straw from the brim of which a couple of gay robins swung in the breeze. Margot Nordstrom carried on with a wide brimmed straw.

At 9 a.m. the Soda Springs Hotel gave 24 children their annual Easter breakfast. The tables were cunning with an Easter basket at every place. John Horak, being the youngset, sat in a high chair and lustily called for an extra portion of mush. Ricky Misener wore his new red sailor suit and looked adorable despite the cwolick his mama couldn't keep flat on his head. The Merrill youngsters, Duffy and Denise, were something out of a picture book, Duff in his ski outfit for he was entered in the Easter Race that follows the traditional breakfast and Denise in a pale pink uit with a blue jersey flared coat topped with a blue bonnet on which demurely hung a cluster of baby roses. Pat Vail, the host, was spic and pan for a little while. Courty Van Evera was togged in ski clothes. The Nordstrom's Karen and Karl behaved beautifully in their Easter outfits. Butch Hansen beamed from under his little cap with an overcoat that matched. Little Pat Cameron, her dark curls bobbing, was a young glamour charmer that kept the racers in a dither. Nancy Pratt and Marles Olsen, in the older bracket, made good mothers for the little folk. Tulips, stock, lilacs and pear blossoms made this glorious Easter morn a veritable bower of sweet scented spring flowers. Then came the Easter egg hunt. Seven dozen colored eggs were hidden and the prize winners carried home white rabbits with pink eyes and blue ribbons around their necks. Then after that came the race. Bunnies were the prizes here also. (We look for the opening of rabbit season soon). Karl Nordstrom made a spectacular run thru the slalom gates. He squatted down on his skis, never quit grinning and as he crossed the finish line asked "What's my time?" Afterwards, when he was given the bunny, he was placed on the counter in the Snowflake so that all onlookers could witness the victor getting his spoils.

Also on Easter was the annual Walt Disney race at the Sugar Bowl where silver engraved napkin rings are the prizes for the kids. In Class B for those 7 and under Smiley Tschopp, with a ripe experience of six years behind her, came in first; Starr Walton, second; John Kuhn from the Bogus Basin project in Idaho came in third. Little Nancy Williamson of Big Bend made 5th. In Class A for kids 8, 9 and 10 was won by Kit Schull, 8, followed closely by Ronnie Olsen, 10. Rex Donaldson of Lake Tahoe was third and Delia Tschopp finished fourth.

Preceding the Disney race, on Saturday was the Gergory Hooker Jr. Challenge perpetual trophy race. Girls results: Nancy Hooley, 13, 1st; Beverly Graham, 15, 2nd and Marles Olsen, 12, 3rd. Boys: Lewis Fellows, 11, 1st; Rex Oliver, 15, 2nd; Bart Hooley, 15, 3rd; Kit Schull, 7th; Ronnie Olsen, 8th.

The University of Nevada chalked up 394.01 points over the weekend to win the Vanderbilt Memorial trophy. Other universities participating, in the order they finished, were Stanford, Portland, California, Oregon, College of Pacific and San Jose.

We take this chance to say we think the operators and owners of ski tows in the Donner area are doing a remarkable job in giving the local kids the free instruction and ski tow rides that are needed to make future champions from local material. The youngsters mentioned from tiny Karl Nordstrom, age 5, to Marles Olsen, 12, have acquired deep tans this winter from continual practice and racing. There isn't one of them who hasn't placed in one or more of the many races that have been run in the area. Each operator shepherds his proteges to the various races on the different hills and takes pride in the showing of his charges. The sportsmanship that is being developed with the ranks of these tiny folks is something that could be patterned by the oldsters. Take Ronnie Olsen and Kit Schull —reared together, schooled together, trained in this sport called skiing together working in competition! DeeDee and Smiley Tschoop, sisters, seven and six; Karl Nordstrom, 5, and Duffy Merrill, 6. When the race is over the loser, in very grown up manner, clasps the hand of the winner and lisps "congratulations".

We are sorry to say that Bart Hooley broke his leg in the Disney Race on Sunday.

Next Sunday comes the Silver Belt race. Close to 50 of the country's best racers are already entered in this classic.

Activities of the new North Tahoe Community and Sports Inc. are well under way. At a board of directors meeting at the home of Mac Burroughs last Friday evening complete reports were received from a majority of department heads. Definite plans for civic improvements will be carried out this year. Complete summer sports program is being arranged which will include boating and swimming events as well as baseball, golf, tennis, etc. The committee in charge is trying to plan tournaments to be played here this summer. The immediate interest of the entertainment department will be the annual spring picnic and fish fry. Weather permitting, this event is set for May 29. A youth center with a complete program of activities is a certainty and definite announcement n regard to plans for same will be made in the near future. The board is meeting again this Friday to complete plans started.

Committee in charge of summer baseball met with the sports director last Thursday evening at the home of Ira Blair. The following managers were appointed: Ernie Crawford, bench manager; Bill Martin, in charge of players, and Tex Jones, business manager. The team is planning again to join the Carson Valley Softball Association. Crawford and Martin will attend a meeting of the association soon and a schedule games will be arranged at that time. The committee in charge of arrangements hopes that night ball games will be possible this year, with floodlights installed on the local field. This would enable a large number of local residents to enjoy the games who heretofore have been too busy during the day to attend. The team need backing if it is to be successful. Enthusiasm on the part of the players is high and should promise us an excellent team this season.

Mildred and Snowden Burch enjoyed a visit from their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knight over the Easter weekend.

The regular meeting of the Women's Club of North Tahoe will be held at the school Thursday evening, April 28. A special program is being planned and all women of the community are invited to attend.

Announcement is made by Mrs. Thersea Sutton that $142.30 was cleared at the recent dinner at Carpenters Hall. This was divided between the PTA and the Women's Club. Both organizations are greatly indebted to Mrs. Sutton for her generous and successful effort in their behalf. Their sincere appreciation is extended to all of the women who assisted her in making the dinner a great success.

Back for Easter were Dot and Bert King. They were guests at the home of Don and Nell Barkhurst. They hope to be able to return to stay by June 10. Norman King and Ray Martin arrived home for the Easter vacation early last week.

Picture Story of U. S. Flag

THE FIRST STARS AND STRIPES

This is the first Stars and Stripes. The Continental Congress on June 14, 1777, resolved: "That the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." According to legend the five-pointed stars were designed by Mrs. Betsy Ross.

FIFTEEN STARS AND STRIPES

With the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union two stars and two stripes were added to the flag following an Act of Congress in 1794. It was a flag of 15 stars and 15 stripes over Ft. McHenry that inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star-Spangled Banner." Congress in 1818 restored the original number of stripes.

Bishop Porter also preached at 11 o'clock service in community hall and baptized a number of children. Sach led the choir in special Easter music and delivered in solo The Lord's Prayer. A special confirmation service was held at the St. Nicholas Chapel on the Episcopal Church grounds in the evening where Bishop Porter was assisted by his son-in-law Herman Rauh.

The bride wore a light blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Dinner at Kings Beach followed the ceremony. The bride's parents were away on a vacation trip in Nevada and learned of the wedding when they returned Sunday. The young couple has taken a cottage in the Bittencourt Tract and the bride will continue with her schooling. Both are employed locally.

The evening before her marriage, Mrs. Astle was given a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Martin with Mrs. Helen Rosenblatt and daughter Fleurette hostesses. Those attending were the Misses Irene Gallerani, Pat Allen, Pat English, Florence Vernon, Myra Lee Pollitt, Collette Morhain, Blodwyn Tiffee, and Doreen Quam; Mesdames Ivan Astle, Dennis Sach, Fred Main, Robert Simpson, and Norma Muller.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stranathan of Colfax and formerly of Truckee this week said they are preparing a cabin at their resort for their son Jack who will marry Miss Betty Wheat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wheat of Reno and Tahoe, on May 8. The wedding is planned at the Tahoe Episcopal Outdoor Chapel.

Homewood Operator Feted by Friends At Birthday Party

TAHOE— On of the gayest parties of the season was that honoring the birthday of Mrs. Myrtle B. Collard, Homewood winter operator for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, at Homewood Hotel on the evening of April 13. Her husband, Roscoe, motored up from the family home at Orangevale.

Hostesses Mrs. Harold Dean and Mrs. Wesley Donaldson gathered together for a pot-luck dinner all the neighbors of the district, who cooked and brought their choicest dishes. Highlight of the feast was a beautiful cake adorned with red whipped cream roses.

The party was held in the hotel dining room where the honoree's table was decorated with bright crepe paper and yellow and orchid candles. About 75 persons joined in singing "Happy Birthday" accompanied by Mrs. Foster Record on the accordion.

Following the repast, three tables full of gifts were brought out for Mrs. Collard to unwrap before the roaring log fire in the lobby. Then chairs were put out of the way while Mrs. Record played and the crowd sang. Movies were shown by Jack Smith of Tahoe Cedars and folk dancing was enjoyed.

Out-of-town guests included C. Don Huff of Woodland, owner of the hotel; Art Leitch and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Zwarg of Truckee; Mrs. Dot Dempsey and children Jim and Collette, Mr. and Mrs. Al Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Peterson of Tahoe City. Also present were the Collard's daughter, Mrs. Walter Brownlow, her daughter Donna Louise and her husband.
